- Key - This page or site is dedicated to the topic; authoritative and comprehensive, it is worthy of being a top result in a web search engine.
- Highly Relevant - The content of this page provides substantial information on the topic.
- Relevant - The content of this page provides some information on the topic, which may be minimal; the relevant information must be on that page, not just promising-looking anchor text pointing to a possibly useful page.
- Non-relevant - The content of this page does not provide useful information on the topic, but may provide useful information on other topics, including other interpretations of the same query.
